

LUXE PACK MONACO

The 34th edition of LUXE PACK Monaco is postponed to September 2021

Press release
October 1st, 2020

Despite all the means implemented to support the industry and organize a show responding to current challenges, the latest government measures restricting group sizes as well as travel restrictions force organizer to cancel the 2020 LUXE PACK Monaco show.

“International health measures are reinforced every day and are making it impossible for us to guarantee a trade show equal to what we have been offering for 34 years now” indicates Nathalie Curvat, General Manager Idice, organizing all LUXE PACK shows worldwide.

However, in order to support the profession, the platform My LUXE PACK will open in November. Accessible to all, it will allow to discover all the exhibitors’ know-how, their best-sellers, and their latest innovations to help source the most creative packaging solutions.
